SORRYS

At a community meeting related to the POCD update, people were asked to think of things they were sorry about in Darien. People were then asked to write those things on a card and place red dots on a map to identify the location. The cards are available at Town Hall.